The Columbian Fourth of July Celebration Moving Along

AT A VERY SATISFACTORY RATE.

Location for the Fireworks not yet Decided upou-Chief Marshal Rolf and his Aides will Moot this Evening-The Wheelmen are Called to Meet To-night-Opinions as to the Location for the Fireworks.

The Columbian Fourth of July celebration is moving along at a very satisfactory rate, and, if weather and the fates are favorable, the celebration is sure to be a magnificent success. All of the committees have got down to work, and the arrangements are being rapidly completed.

This evening at the chamber of commerce the chief marshal, Colonel August Rolf, and his aides will meet to complete their organization and decide any matters relative to the conduct of the street demonstration that may come up. In the meantime it is especially desired by the chief marshal that societies as have not already signified their intention to take part in the street parade at once notify Secretary Dinger, of the street demonstration committee. Before the final arrangements for the parade can be completed it must be known the number of organizations that will take part. The following is a list of the aides appointed by the chief marshal. It is also desirable that such of the aides as have not already accepted the position tendered them will attend the meeting this evening, as the chief marshal will then have some instructions which he will impart to the aides. fied their intention to take part in the Lure, Harry Fink, Ernest Metzner.

The committee on grounds appointed at Tuesday ovening's meeting of the general committee, Messra. Baur and Hart, were out yesterday hunting after suitable grounds for the fireworks display. They looked at the old fair grounds site on the Island, and this seemed to fill the bill more completely than any other. Leaving the Island. than any other. Leaving the Island they examined every piece of ground that has been suggested or thought of in the city, from the river to the hills and as far down as the Forty-eighth street car barns. The committee has not yet decided upon a location.

On Monday avening at the chamber not yet decided upon a location.

On Monday evening at the chamber of commerce the committees on street demonstration, speakers and entortainment and printing will meet to get up the printed programme for the day, which is to be on the same sheet as the declaration of independence.

The wheelmen of the city are also called to meet this evening at the chamber of commerce to complete arrangements for the street parade in the rangements for the street parade in the morning, lantern demonstration in the evening and the road race in the after-noon. Additional officials for the road race are to be chosen, and things generally for the bicycling features of the day put in shape. Every wheelman in the city who intends taking part in the celebration should be on hand at 8 celebration should be o'clock sharp.

There is no doubt that the bicycle division of the morning parade will be one of the finest features, but as an incentive a suitable and valuable prize will be given to the cycler who turns out with the finest decorated wheel.

out with the finest decorated wheel.
Another feature of the bicycle division will be a drilled corps of expert wheelmen under the command of Will Sadler, who will put them through many fancy manoeuvers.

About the Boad Race.

There has been an impression around that the Swift make of safety bicycle had been selected for the winner of the had been selected for the winner of the Fourth of July road race, without letting the other dealers have a chance to bid for furnishing their wheels. This is a mistake. The winner of the race has the privilege of selecting any make of high grade wheels represented in Wheeling, and if the agent of the wheel selected will furnish one at the amount of money that has been raised for the purpose, about $100, that wheel will be turnished to the winner. However, Mr. Jason Stamp, the principal promoter of Jason Stamp, the principal promoter of the road race, has very kindly offered to furnish a $150 Swift to the winner if the representative of the wheel selected will not furnish it for $100. The handlcap committee will meet in a day or two and decide that very important matter, but it is too much to expect that everybody will be satisfied; they never are in such cases.

In Front of the Wharf.

Sir:—As requested in your paper of the 20th inst., I would suggest that the Ohio river in front of the wharf would be the most suitable place to display the fireworks. Several barges could be anchored in the river and in this way parties could see the display from all sides.

The whart also would be one of the best places to crect a grand stand, should the committee desire to do so, should the committee desire to do so, for it has the right slope.

In conclusion would say that the place named is near the centre of the city, easy of access, and it would not be a hardship on parents and children to attend after having spent the Glorious Fourth in parading and cheering.

Yours,

Wheeling, June 21.

The Old Fair Grounds.

To the Editor of the Intelligences.

Sin:—The action of the State Fair Association board of directors, in refusing to allow the use of their grounds for the Columbian Fourth of July celebration fireworks, narrows the available locations down to two, viz: either the old fair grounds or an anchored barge at the river front. Of these two there can the river from. Of these two there can be no doubt that the former is by long odds the better. The bridge companies are reported willing to open the two bridges to the public free of charge on the evening of the Fourth, so that all of the people of Wheeling will be at liberty without incurring expense to wit-ness the pyrotechnic exhibit. The peo-ple want the exhibit at the old fair grounds.

The Hill's the Piace.

To the Editor of the Inte

Sin:—As to location for fireworks on Fourth of July, it is easier to say where they should not be than where they should. Distant parts of the Island are should. Distant parts of the Island are too far from the centre of population; the river front was a failure on Columbian day; Chapline hill is not central enough. Let me suggest the top of Wheeling hill, just north of crematory point. It is easily in view from the most central and populous part of town, and has other advantages.

OME MERCHANTS would have you believe that trade enters a condition of torpidity about July 1, and remains so till the cool days of September wake it to life and nctivity again.

But, begging your pardon, that is not true. There is no season of the year in which people do not buy goods; there is no season in which they do not want them. By the same token, there is no season in which it will not pay to advertise. However, if your neighbor has this old-fashioned notion, and is too conservative to advertise now, there is all the better chance for you. If you think people are not hunting bargains in warm weather, try it.
